In Alma-Ata after reconstruction one of the main sights of the southern opened capitals - Republic palace. It closed on capital repairs in 2010. And now the main scene of the city waits again for the audience.

The Republic palace – the Almaty symbol, along with Medeo, Kok-Tobe, Kazakhstan hotel. It was constructed in 1970, however, then it was called as Palace of culture of a name of Lenin. In the last years image of the legendary building were spoiled by the torn chairs, cracks and the peeled-off plaster on walls and ceilings.

Now the first that is evident – a new roof and the huge display. Instead of stone walls there was a power active glass which doesn't pass cold in the winter, and in the summer – to a heat. Also here the underground parking on 300 cars is constructed. In the hall replaced chairs and established a fire-proof curtain. Acoustics improved also. By the way, acoustic calculations for the palace, the Moscow specialists participating in reconstruction of the Bolshoi theater did. In The palace strengthened also security measures: established 60 surveillance cameras and system of the electronic ticketing.
