Palace of Peace and Harmony

Palace of Peace and Harmony is situated in the central part of new administrative center of Astana and is very close to the Residence of the President.

Palace of Peace and Harmony has an opera hall for 1500 places, the museum of national culture, the University of Civilizations, exhibition and concert halls, library, research center of world religions, special offices and places for praying for the representatives of 32 confessions.

The top of the pyramid is designed with the colors of national republican flag, there is a round hall for 200 places, since 2006 it has become a place for negotiations between the representatives of different religions. Considering the fact that these meetings are held once in a 3 year, the rest of the time this hall is used for other meetings and conferences.

It was decided to provide the round hall with the conference system of 50 panels and 150 listeners and the simultaneous translation on 8 languages.

One of the features of this hall is the remote disposition of the simultaneous translators from the conference hall.

All building was provided with the CCTV and public address system.

Solution:

DSN-NG equipment was used for conference system.

AutoDome cameras were installed for CCTV system

One of the special feature was that 2 Auto Dome cameras were installed into the exclusive luster situated right under the table for negotiations.

FlexiDome, Dinion, система управления на базе Divar-16, Divar-9.

Public address system is based on Plena

Result:

The interpreters have a possibility to watch the negotiations on the monitors.

One on the unique buildings in the world is equipped with the best solutions of CCTV, congress and public address systems.
